2. PARTICULARS OF ORGANISATION, FUNCTIONS & DUTIES

2.1. OBJECTIVE / PURPOSE OF THE DEPARTMENT

2.1.1 EVOLUTION OF THE DIRECTORATE

The first Engineering Institution to be started in the country was the Survey School, which was established in 1794 at Madras by the East India Company. Out of this, the reputed College of Engineering Guindy, Chennai has come into existence. The output of the Engineering Institutions in the country was not commensurate with the demand in the then developing India and the Industrialization all over India necessitated the expansion of the Technical Institutions at all levels during the Five Year Plans.

Initially the Engineering and Polytechnic Colleges were under the control of the Directorate of Public Instruction and Directorate of Industries and Commerce respectively. The Director of Industries looked after the Polytechnics and the Industrial schools under the overall control of Department of Labor, Employment and Cooperation. The Director of Public Instruction looked after the College of Engineering, Guindy and other engineering Colleges. There was a Technological Diploma Examination Board to conduct the Examinations and award Diplomas on the completion of polytechnic courses. There was no machinery responsible for the coordinated development of Technical Education in its different branches and at different levels. As a result the Directorate of Technical Education was established with the objective of bringing about coordinated development of Technical Education in the State with effect from 14th October 1957 consequent to the suggestions made by the State Standing Advisory Board of Technical Education.

2.2. VISION

A net work of high quality and self driven Institutions producing Technical manpower who are highly competent, dynamic, entrepreneurial and having the sufficient number and character to set this State and Country on the road to prosperity.

2.3. MISSION

- Improving the quality of Staff and Infrastructure in Government, Government Aided and Self-Financing Institutions.
- Improving the quality of Education through better content and better Educational tools.
- Improving the evaluation system so as to create healthy competition among the Institutions and the Students towards Excellence.

- Networking the Institutions so as to overcome critical gaps in Resources, if any and to ensure a cooperative, win-win situation.
- Promoting Research and Development in Institutions so as to inculcate entrepreneurial culture.
- Encourage the Consultancy and promoting Industry – Institute linkage.

2.4. SETTING UP OF THE BOARD OF TECHNICAL EDUCATION & TRAINING

- It was against this background a Board of Technical Education and Training was set up with the mandate to advise the Government on the general program as well as specific individual schemes necessary for bringing about coordinated development of Technical Education in the state. It was also entrusted with the following tasks:
- Affiliation and recognition of Institutions conducting courses other than University courses and prescription of such courses of study;
- Arrangements for ensuring standards in such Institutions and for verifying them through periodical inspections;
- Framing regulations and conducting Examinations and award of Diplomas and Certificates, conforming to the minimum standards prescribed by AICTE;
- Maintaining cooperative relationship with the Educational Institutions and the Industrial establishments.

2.4.1. SUBSEQUENT DEVELOPMENTS

- Later, the Government ordered the transfer of the control of Government Technical Examination held by the Directorate of Public Institutions to the State Board of Technical Education and Training.
- In 1984 vide G.O.429 dated 17.4.84 the Government permitted establishment of new Self-Financing Engineering Colleges and Polytechnics by Private sector under the overall control of the Directorate of Technical Education.
- In 1987, AICTE Act was passed with the objective of maintaining minimum standards of Technical Education. Taking note of the phenomenon of a large number of Engineering Colleges and Polytechnics coming up in complete disregard of the AICTE guidelines, statutory powers were granted to AICTE by this Act. to ensure planned development of the Technical Education, promotion of quality and regulation of the system and proper maintenance of norms and standards.

- In 1994, Continuing Education Schemes were started in the name of Canada India Institutional Co-operation Project (CIICP) under the auspices of Directorate of Technical Education.

ANNEXURE – B

GROWTH OF ENGINEERING COLLEGES

The Department of Technical Education under the control of Higher Education department is a vast one dealing with Diploma, post Diploma, degree, Post Graduate courses and Research programmes in the specified areas. Also it regulates the establishment of Technical Institutions including Commerce Institutions such as type writing, Short Hand and accountancy.

The Institutions recognized by the directorate of Technical Education and Affiliated with concerned Universities evolved around the directorate of Technical Education. The Director of Technical Education is the head of this department under whom the overall administration is vested.

Before 1984, only 4 Government Engineering Colleges and 3 Government Aided Engineering Colleges were in existence. Thanthai Periyar Government Institute of Technology, Vellore was started in the year 1990 and Government Engineering College; Bargur was started in the year 1994. At present there are Six Government Engineering Colleges functioning in the entire state of Tamil Nadu. The self Financing Engineering Colleges were allowed to start from the year 1984 onwards. There was an exponential growth of Self-Financing Engineering Colleges from 1984 and now the strength of Self-Financing Engineering Colleges rose to 263. The details are given in Table II.1.

All the Engineering Colleges under the purview of the Directorate of Technical Education in the State of Tamil Nadu have been affiliated to the Anna University, Chennai, till the Academic year 2006-07. This has become quite unmanageable for the Anna University, Chennai, to handle the entire Academic and administrative matters relating to the large number of Engineering Colleges across the State. To improve the quality in Education and administration, the Government of Tamil Nadu have formed three more Technical Universities during the Academic year 2007-08, viz. Anna University, Trichy; Anna University, Coimbatore; and Anna University, Tirunelveli. The details regarding the number of Engineering Colleges attached to each University are given Table-B.4.

- The beginning of formal Technical Education in India can be dated back to the mid 19th Century. The major policy initiatives in the pre-independence period included appointment of the Indian Universities Commission in 1902, issue of the Indian Education policy resolution in 1904 and the Governor General's policy statement of 1913 stressing the importance of Technical Education, the establishment of IISc in Bangalore, Institute for Sugar, Textile and Leather Technology in Kanpur, N.C.E. in Bengal in 1905 and Industrial schools in several provinces. Significant developments include:
  - Constitution of the Technical Education Committee of the Central Advisory Board of Education (CABE) of 1943;
  - Preparation of the Sergeant Report of 1944; and
  - Formation of the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) in 1945 by the Government of India.

H.1.2. GROWTH OF AICTE

- All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) was set-up in November 1945 as a national level Apex Advisory Body to conduct survey on the facilities on technical education and to promote development in the country in a coordinated and integrated manner. and awards and ensuring coordinated and integrated development and management of technical education in the country.

- The Government of India (Ministry of Human Resource Development) also constituted a National Working Group to look into the role of AICTE in the context of proliferation of technical institutions, maintenance of standards and other related matters. The Working Group recommended that AICTE be vested with the necessary statutory authority for making it more effective, which would consequently require restructuring and strengthening with necessary infrastructure and operating mechanisms.
- Pursuant to the above recommendations of the National Working Group, the AICTE Bill was introduced in both the Houses of Parliament and passed as the AICTE Act No. 52 of 1987. The Act came into force w.e.f. March 28, 1988.
